

FIGHTING ON GREEK FRONTIER

BRITISH FORCE IS REPULSED IN MESOPOTAMIA DISTRICT.

GERMANS REINFORCED

PREPARE FOR NEW ATTACK ON FRENCH AT VERDUN.

In Caurettes Wood, just west of the Meuse river, another attempt to break the French line extending Verdun was made this morning by German troops. The official communication from Paris says the attack was repulsed. East of the river there was no infantry fighting during the night, although the artillery kept up its incessant fire.

The official French statement says the German losses in yesterday's fighting were very heavy.

The struggle for Verdun goes on with no sign of an ending. After a winter of inactivity along the Greek frontier heavy fighting is now under way although apparently it is still confined principally to artillery actions. An unconfirmed report from Saloniki tells of the capture of a fortified position by the German allies, but so far as is indicated no large bodies of infantry have been engaged.

The destruction of British shipping which is causing damage in England, continues. The Senator, a new British 3,500-ton steamship, has been sent to the bottom. The crew is believed to have been rescued.

Official investigation of the sinking of the Dutch steamships Tubantia and Palembang has resulted in a finding that both were torpedoed.

NEW BRITISH SHIP SUNK.

Germans Use Gas Bombs in Verdun Attack.

LONDON, April 12.—Lloyd's announces that the Senator, a new British steamship of 3,497 tons, has been sunk. It is believed all hands have been saved. The Senator was owned in Whitley.

Resumption of violent cannonading along the Greek frontier in the vicinity of Greville and Doiran, is reported in a despatch from Saloniki to the Journal. It is said the French artillery had the advantage.

It is also reported that the German allies captured the fortified position at Deve Tepe, but this has not been confirmed.

BERLIN, April 12.—(By wireless to Sayville).—A British Mesopotamia force, composed of troops transferred from the Dardanelles, were repulsed by Turkish troops in a sanguinary battle lasting six hours near Felab on April 9, according to a Turkish headquarters report dated April 11. The statement adds that more than 3,000 dead British were counted after the battle.

PARIS, April 12.—While bringing up reinforcements to resume their attack on Lemort Homme, the hill of the Dead Man, the Germans are trying to recover the ground gained by the French in Callette woods and to the north between Douaumont and Vaux.

The French position there describes an arc from a point south of Douaumont fort to the center of the village of Vaux and the front is a little less than two miles in length.

For three days the only actions on the east bank of the Meuse have been centered there with the habitual preparation in heavily concentrated artillery fire with a finishing touch in the form of a couple of hours of heavy shelling with suffocating and tear-provoking gas projectiles. After a bombardment with high explosives lasting eight hours and the use of gas for another hour or two the Germans would attack in two columns simultaneously on two flanks. There was no visible diminution in their courage and ardor. Neither did the French show

TELEGRAPH TIPS

YOUNGSTOWN — President

James A. Campbell, of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company announced today that his company has bought outright the capital stock of the Andrews and Hitchcock Iron Company at a cost of $2,500,000. The latter concern has two 400-ton blast furnaces at Hubbard, near here. Included in the deal was the transfer of an airstreet in one mine.

BERLIN — The German reply to the American note concerning the damaging or sinking of five steamships contains the statement that the steamers Englishman, Eagle Point, Manchester Engineer and Berwindale were destroyed by German submarines. Evidence is presented to show that these vessels were torpedoed legally, in accordance with the rules of war.

CINCINNATI — The theatre

boat "New Idea," a floating moving picture vessel sank early today in the Ohio river after it crashed head-on into a pier of the Southern bridge near the Kentucky shore. There were five men and one woman aboard. They saved themselves by leaping from the boat to a large launch not a moment too soon as the boat went down rapidly.

DR. GILLIAM KILLED AT GRADE CROSSING

COLUMBUS, O., April 12.—News of the death last night of Dr. Charles F. Gilliam, aged 62, superintendent of the Columbus state hospital, as the result of an automobile accident, stirred official and medical circles today. Messages of condolence poured in from all over the country, for Dr. Gilliam had a wide acquaintance. Funeral services probably will be held Friday.

Services for Miss Elizabeth Somerville, aged 25, a nurse at the hospital, who was killed in the same accident with Dr. Gilliam, will be held that day also, it is expected.

The accident occurred last evening when an automobile in which Dr. Gilliam was driving Miss Somerville to the hospital for an emergency case, became stalled on railroad tracks near Grandview and was struck by a Pennsylvania freight train. The young woman was killed instantly and Dr. Gilliam died several hours later in a hospital.

SOUTH END MEN BEGIN WORK FOR IMPROVEMENTS

Enthusiastic Meeting at Grace Church Draws Large Crowd.

ALL PROMISE TO AID

Bond Issues Are Gaining in Favor With Voters of South Lima.

Opposition to the proposed bond issues will be small in the South Side, judging from the sentiments expressed at Grace M. E. church last night. With a clear presentation of the subject by able speakers, covering all doubtful points, and a free discussion by members of the audience of more than 100 voters, there is little reason to doubt that that section will respond with a large majority on April 25. The men who attended the mass meeting represented all parts of that end of town, all walks of life, and all occupations, and each pledged himself by a rising vote to spread the gospel of improvement until every voter in South Lima understood the importance of the program.

Dr. M. S. Bowser, the father of the river improvement project, was the presiding officer. It was as president of the council several years ago that he foresaw the day when Hawk Creek would have to be converted from an open sewer to a more sanitary river. His remarks were not confined, however, to the river issue, but embraced the street paving projects and the water works extension as well. Sectionalism, he asserted, must disappear, for in this matter there is no place for jealousy or dissension, as the future of Lima as a whole, including every section, demands the improvements.

Walter B. Riche, invited as the first speaker, related at length the steady growth of Lima, demonstrating that the city has reached a position where advance is imperative. "We have outgrown the clothes of a small town," he said, "and it is now our duty to secure the clothes of a city." His argument turned on the point that the future of Lima will depend on her preparations for the future, and he was well applauded for his warm endorsement of all three of the bond issues included in the improvement program.

S. M. Williams, of the Garford plant, discussing the bond issues from the standpoint of "local preparedness," promised the moral support and co-operation of the company. As a manufacturer, he said that the first question asked by the foremen of the factories concerns water. Backers of large companies which might be landed for the city always talk about the water supply before looking into any other proposition. Not only will an inadequate water supply frighten prospective settlers with factories to erect, but unless the water is harmless to the boilers the manufacturers will steer clear of the city. To this factor must be added the element of fire protection and

To Organize Uncle Sam's Aviation Corps

Colonel George C. Squier.

Colonel George C. Squier, military attaché with the American embassy in London, has been recalled by Secretary of War Baker, it is believed, for the purpose of organizing the aviation service of the United States army. He may succeed Colonel Samuel Reber, who was accused in the senate of failure to handle the aeronautics service properly.

Here Are McHarg's "Business Candidates"

Ormsby McHarg, whose activities in republican politics have at times been interesting, has established expensive offices in New York City to try to persuade the delegates to the republican national convention to nominate a business man for president. Any one of those whose pictures are here shown would be acceptable, he says. But T. Coleman du Pont of the Delaware family, now owner of the Equitable Life Assurance society, would be the ideal candidate. But Mr. McHarg denies he is working solely in the interest of Mr. du Pont. Four or five of the business candidates are wealthy.

THREE KILLED BY POWDER EXPLOSION

Dupont Plant Wrecked; Two Children Perish in Home.

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., April 10.—Three persons were killed, a workman and two children, when the plant of the Dupont Powder company at Nemours, Mercer county, eight miles from here, was blown to pieces by four explosions early today. The force of the explosions was such that houses in the little village were wrecked, and the sound could be plainly heard in this place. The dead children were buried in the ruins of their home, near the powder mill.

The principal damage was done by the first explosion which is said to have completely destroyed the building in which it occurred. The succeeding explosions were believed to have been caused by flying embers and were of less intensity.

Details of the explosion are lacking as Nemours is located in a wild country and all wires leading to the town were torn down. The plant, which was located there 15 years ago, has been working day and night on war orders.

DRINKS POISON BY MISTAKE.

STUEBENVILLE, O., April 12.—Mrs. Marie Holliday, 39, drained a bottle of poison at her home here last night and died this morning. Relatives say she took the poison by mistake when she arose in the dark to take some medicine.

MISSIONARY DIES IN JAPAN.

ST. MARYS, O., April 12.—Death of the Rev. Herman H. Cook, 34 years old, on April 7 in Tokio, Japan, from pneumonia, was announced today by the missionary's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Cook, of New Knoxville. A widow and six children survive. The family will return to America.

BOND ISSUE LOGIC

No. 6. "I'm For Reciprocity" Says North St. Booster.

"I believe in reciprocity, and I'm going to vote for all three of the proposed municipal bond issues at the coming election." That was the declaration made by a well known public-spirited citizen in a downtown cigar store this morning when a number of men were discussing the proposed water works, street and river improvement bond issues. The remark was made in response to a statement reported to have been made by another citizen who had intimated that he was opposed to the street improvement issue and had given as his reason, that his street was already paved and the improvement paid for, hence he could see no reason for voting for bonds to help lift his neighbor out of the mud. The argument thus suggested was promptly wiped off the slate by the West North street man.

"He forgets," said the North street man, "that the man living on the mud street helped him to pay the cost of the paving in front of his home. The city, or in other words the taxpayers, always pay the entire cost of the paving of street and alley intersections and in addition to that they pay two percent of the total cost of the entire improvement whenever a street is paved. They also pay the cost of keeping the paved street cleaned and repaired, while the man who owns a home on the unpaved street continues to drive and walk in mud and never has his street cleaned. The cost to each of us as taxpayers will be so little that we will not feel it and I for one have enough civic pride and belief in reciprocity that I'm for the bond issues, first, last and always."

JOB OF ALTERNATE MAY OPEN TROUBLE IN FOURTH DISTRICT

Contest Hitherto Ignored Now Promises to Kick Up Rumpus.

Piqua Editor Espouses the Cause of 'Last Minute' Candidate.

By David W. Bowman. That there is a contest on the democratic primary ballot to be voted upon April 25, has not become widely known throughout the Fourth congressional district, but that this is the case may soon become too well known in some circles. It is for the position of alternate to the democratic national convention at St. Louis, June 14.

St. John Jennings, a doctor residing at West Milton, Miami county, and Alvin E. Binkley, former recorder of Darke county and now a resident of Greenville, were the first in the field, and their names were printed in most of the district papers as the Wilson candidates.

At the last minute Ira McGriff of Darke county, entered a petition at the county seat, but little attention has been accorded him throughout the district.

The Piqua Leader-Dispatch, Henry Kampf, editor, is publishing the names of Jennings and McGriff, thereby committing the paper to a fight on Binkley. Just what Henry is up to is left to conjecture, but it may be that he thinks Binkley a friend of Dr. W. J. Prince, Piqua postmaster and owner of the Press, "Piqua's only real democratic paper."

McGriff is the candidate of the Browne-Williams faction in Darke county, the same which engineered the anti-Harmon propaganda in the Fourth district in 1912. Binkley, on the other hand, is the candidate of the Maher-Marker crowd, at present the dominant faction. If the action of Kampf, the Piqua editor is to be taken as a criterion, the McGriff element intends to start a fight on Binkley. One paper located near the middle of the district has inquired to know just what this McGriff person is, who put him up, why and how far he thought he would get. At any rate, the silence which accompanied his entrance appears to connote an attempt to slip something across. Three guesses for a nickel.

That an effort will be made to get a sermon on the bond issue text, is the latest gossip in the city building. Some enthusiasts state that if every minister in Lima would endorse the bonds from his pulpit as a public need, there would be no doubt of the success of the program of improvement.

It is known that friends of the bond issue are working hard to get the word out. (Continued on Page Two)

U. S. TROOPS AT BORDER OF DURANGO

VILLA'S MAN LOPEZ IS KILLED INSTEAD OF CHIEF.

DEFACTOS MEET BANDITS

OUTLAWS DEFEATED AND FLEE LEAVING SEVENTY DEAD.

EL PASO, Texas, April 12.—The Mexican expeditionary force has penetrated far beyond Parral and is near if not actually at the Chihuahua-Durango border line is indicated in code despatches received here this afternoon by private concerns with interests in the Parral district.

TORREON, Mex., April 12.—Details of a five-hour battle between the Carranza garrison at Pasaña, Durango, and an attacking force composed of Contreras and Centeno bandits, were brought here today. The outlaws fled in disorder after losing 70 killed; it is reported. The defacto troops lost four dead.

GENERAL PERSHING'S CAMP AT THE FRONT, April 10.—(via aeroplane to Columbus, N. M.,) April 12.—Two widows of Carranza officers slain by Villa near here passed through camp today en route to Chihuahua. One was Senora Innocencia Rivera, aged 16, and the other Senora Teresa Milan, aged 20.

"I wished to kill Villa myself," said Senora Rivera, "so they are sending me away from this part of the country."

Senora Rivera had been married three months when her husband was killed by some of Villa's forces at Guerrero, March 28. The 16-year-old bride was in Minaca at a dance that night, while her husband, a colonel, was on duty in Guerrero.

The other young woman, Senora Milan, had been to San Ysidro to a Sunday night dance, from which she was returning, accompanied by her husband, a lieutenant colonel, when some of Villa's men came upon them. Senora Milan was shot, her husband fell, and she sought to protect her husband, and shot him dead.

The two young women said that Villa sent detachments to attack not only Guerrero but San Ysidro and Minaca, all of which are near, the same night. At San Ysidro, a Villa soldier disguised as a tortilla seller, entered town two days before the attack, acting as a spy on all the garrison's plans. Similar spies preceded Villa into Minaca and Guerrero. Neither of the young women knew of the wounding of Villa.

VILLA PLAYING 'POSSUM'

Bandit Chief Uses Death of Lopes to Deceive Pursuers.

EL PASO, Texas, April 12.—An entirely new version of the story of Villa's death was brought here today by a Mexican cattleman, who claimed to have suffered a visitation from a band of Villa followers on his ranch near Bachiniba. This man said that Villa was neither dead nor wounded, but that Pablo Lopez, the bandit's notorious lieutenant and executioner-in-chief, had died and that Villa had deliberately used his death as the basis of the story of his own finish.

The cattleman told the following story: "I was in Guerrero at the time Villa came there and afterwards when the American soldiers arrived I believed it was safe for me to return to my ranch."

"Last Thursday a band of 20 of Villa's men rode up to the ranch house. They took a little grain that I had and killed one of my cows and had a great feast. They had several bottles of liquor that they had secured at Guerrero and Minaca and got pretty drunk before they were through."

"They ridiculed the American soldiers and boasted about the way Villa had fooled the 'Gringos' by sending guides to the American officers with stories of definite places in which he was hiding. Then they talked about Lopez and said he was dying and that as soon as he was dead the Gringos would be told it was Villa and then they would all go home."

"They did not say anything definite about the whereabouts of the Villa bandits, but I understood from their talk that he was far to the south and that they were under orders to meet him somewhere near Farral.

The Mexican who told this story is well known to several Americans here who considered him reliable.

Villa's ride south has been a disastrous one to the villages and the small towns through which he raided, according to numerous reports received here. His men have looted at will and have been ruthless in their destruction of property. Several reports relate instances of women being assaulted and of Mexicans who were shot because of their supposed friendliness to Americans, but none of them has been corroborated.

Practically every man in El Paso has a map of Mexico on which he picks out a new location for the fugitive bandit daily, but the most reliable information is to the effect that he is in northern Durango, trying to arrange for a concentration of Villa adherents who have been operating under Canuto Reyes.

GENERAL PERSHING'S CAMP AT THE FRONT IN MEXICO, April 5.—(By aeroplane and motor courier to Columbus, N. M.,) April 11.—The ride of Lieutenant Albert Myer of the seventh cavalry, at the Guerrero fight, when Colonel George A. Dodd caught the Villa forces for the first time, was described here today by an officer from Dodd's column who brought despatches to the headquarters camp. Lieutenant Myer is from New York, a grandson of the former chief signal officer of the United States army.

During much of the fight, Colonel Dodd had a position on one of the hills which form a bowl about the town of Guerrero. A mile and a half from this hill, Colonel Dodd saw some Villa troops numbering possibly one or two hundred, slipping stealthily through a ravine. Moving in their direction, but in such a position that they might not see the Villa men, was Major Tompkins' squadron of the seventh cavalry. There seemed a chance for the Villa force to take the squadron on the flank and Colonel Dodd ordered Lieutenant Myer to carry word to Major Tompkins of the bandit's movements. Myer rode a horse conspicuously marked with white. Between him and Major Tompkins lay a mile of open field, swept by the fire of snipers. Lieutenant Myer made the distance at a run, jumping ditches, dodging boulders and leaping fences. The ride thrilled the officers who were watching. The messenger reached the American squadron in time to warn them of the bandit's position.

OHIO PLANNING TO DEPORT TWO LEPERS

May Send Victims From Dayton and Norwalk to Panama.

COLUMBUS, O., April 12.—State authorities today took steps which may lead to the deportation of Ohio's two lepers to Panama where they will be cared for along with other leprosy victims. J. G. Vaquez, a Dayton citizen, was found yesterday to be a leper and Edward Nushaumer of Norwalk, also a leper, formerly a soldier in the United States army, is held at San Francisco pending outcome of a dispute between Norwalk and San Francisco authorities concerning his disposition.

Secretary of War Baker over the telephone today from Cleveland suggested to Acting Attorney General Ballard that both patients be sent to Panama. Attorney General Turner, who is now in the east on official business was at once urged by wire to confer tomorrow at Washington with General Gorgas, chief health commissioner of the Panama district, concerning the proposal.

The federal government yesterday withdrew from negotiations between Ohio and San Francisco authorities over the disposition of Nushaumer when officials of the California city positively refused to agree to keep the patient there on condition that Norwalk pay for his maintenance.

ALLEGED GIRL BROKE TRAFFIC ORDINANCE

An affidavit was sworn out against Miss Trau, daughter of F. H. Trau, of 730 West Spring street, today, by Mrs. O. R. Jordan, charging the young lady with violating the city traffic ordinance. Mrs. Jordan complained to police officials that the incident which occurred last night, proved to be a narrow escape for her and her young child.

According to the complainant, Miss Trau drove her automobile past the end of a West Market street car at the intersection of that street with Cole, just as Mrs. Jordan and her daughter were alighting. Although neither Mrs. Jordan nor her child were struck by the car, the former claims that one of the wheels of the car passed over the coat of the child.

TWO FIRES AT SAME PLACE.

The Central fire department was called to the home of Mrs. B. Phillips, at 508 South West street, about 2:15 o'clock this afternoon. About a half an hour later they received the second call from the same residence. Quite a little damage resulted from the combination of flames and water.

ROME HAS HOUSES ENOUGH TO GIVE CITIZENS SHELTER

Building Encouraged by Freeing New Structures From Taxes.

Old Ruins Cleared Away to Erect Homes For Tailors.

ROME, Italy, April 11.—For the first time in the history of modern Rome there are enough houses in the city to accommodate its population. According to recent municipal statistics, the city has almost a room for each of its 600,000 inhabitants. In the 12-year period cited, the population has increased 106,000, the number of new rooms $1,887, and at a total building cost of $12,000,000.

The solution of the housing problem of Rome has been closely studied by American cities through their own experts and through United States consular reports because here new, cleaner, and roomier dwellings have not meant an increase but a decrease in rents for poor people.

The problem in Rome has offered peculiar difficulties, partly because Rome has been at times the most populous and at other times the least populous of the cities of the world. In its most populous days, when its inhabitants have been variously estimated at from one to three millions, it solved its housing problem by the invention of the skyscraper of nine stories. When the temporal power of the papacy ended in 1870, Rome had a population of 200,000, living in ancient, damp and unhealthy stone houses, and since that date it has been struggling to provide enough room for its yearly increasing population, coming in part from foreign countries but principally from its own provinces.

The two citizens who have been most prominently identified with the solution of the problem are former Mayor Nathan and former Premier Luigi Luzzatti. The method of the latter was to raise city taxes on old houses and to let new ones go free of taxes for a given period. Mayor Nathan put an extra tax of 3 percent on land on which the owners refused to build. He also secured the adoption of ordinances providing low taxes for dwellings occupying but one-fourth of the building plot and the erection of an apartment of which did not exceed $20 a month. Other parts of the scheme involved the preservation of ancient Rome as public monuments and parks and inducing the poor population to leave the old buildings for higher, healthier sections outside the ancient and medieval sites.

The result of these various measures has been the building up of the over the Tiber section known as Prati and the high quarter above the ancient city, which really lies in the Tiber bottoms, known as Alta Roma, outside of Porta Pia and generally surrounding the central station of the State railway. In these quarters may be seen blocks of model apartment houses that are not unlike in aspect those in the newly built uptown sections of New York City, the suburbs of Chicago, Kansas City, or Cincinnati. With the improvement of the street car communications, the poorer people are also gradually removing far outside the ancient walls and building little homes with the ruins of ancient Rome.

Meanwhile ancient and medieval Rome is being cleaned up and beautified. While many of the famous palaces are still inhabited by the owning princes, they are slowly abandoning them, sub-letting parts for business offices and living apartments, themselves building new palaces and villas on the Janiculum, the Via Nomentana, and elsewhere. The effort of the Italian government to give employment to laborers whom the war has thrown out of their regular positions has in some instances stimulated work on new public buildings, and when the war is over it is expected that the ambitious project of tearing down some of the squalid dwellings near the Vatican will be put into execution and new streets laid forming a proper vista to St. Peter's.

CANNOT REMEMBER HIS OWN IDENTITY

CINCINNATI, O., April 12.—A man about 40 years of age believed to be an iron worker visited the Newport, Ky., police headquarters today and said his memory had left him. He made the statement he was on his way to a steel plant south of Newport and felt something strange coming over him. He believed something snapped in his head and his memory departed. He could not recall his own name he declared. After long questioning the police were led to believe his home is in Homestead, Pa. The officers also believe he has a wife or sister residing there. A brother-in-law whose name the stranger believes is Jim is employed at the steel plant. Jail Physician Krieger after an examination thought the man had been attacked while en route to the steel plant.

Suicide in Church That Washington Attended

Philip G. Walter, sexton of St. Paul's chapel, one of the churches of the immensely wealthy Trinity Corporation of New York City, hanged himself in the steeple the other day. The arrow shows the window at which he was found. This chapel is famous not only for its age—it being the oldest church in New York City—but there part of the ceremonies for the first inauguration of George Washington were held. The church is in the lower Manhattan business section and has been a landmark for more than one hundred years.

SPEAKER SIGNS UP; PLAYS WITH INDIANS

CLEVELAND, O., April 12.—Truman Speaker signed his contract with the Cleveland American league club at noon today and will appear in the line-up this afternoon in the opening game. Details of the contract were not divulged.

The contract is for two years. The only announcement made by the officials of the Cleveland club was this: "Speaker has signed his contract. He signed it as he wanted it." It could not be learned whether Speaker obtained the $5000 he sought last night as a bonus. His demands at that time were for an amount said to be $12,000 a year and $5000 of the price paid to Boston for his purchase. It is believed, however, that Speaker will get close to $30,000 for his two years' work. Whether the Cleveland club will pay it all or whether a part of it will come from Boston remains unknown.

As soon as Speaker signed he left the club offices at the ball park and hustled down town to be fitted out with a uniform. He then ate his lunch and started for the ball park for his first practice with his new team-mates. He will play center field against St. Louis this afternoon and bat fourth.

TRACTION CARMEN STRIKE AT ALLIANCE

ALLIANCE, O., April 12.—Seventy-five motormen and conductors on the Cleveland, Alliance and Mahoning Valley and Stark Electric railroads struck here today and city cars in Alliance and in Interurbans between this city, Louisville, Canton, Dambacus, Searing, Salem, Atwater, Lima, Ravenna and Leavittsburg was at a standstill. The men demand wage increases from 8 to 20 percent. The walk-out occurred after the cars had all been placed in the barns last night. The men refused to take them out this morning. A compromise wage offer made yesterday by the company was rejected by the men. President C. L. Morley had promised to place the demands of the men before the directors of the Stark Electric in Cleveland today but the strike may change this arrangement.

AU-PUL ISN'T IT?

CLEVELAND, O., April 12.—The shortest name in Cuyahoga county court records was listed today when Mrs. P. A. Au, sued Hugh R. Au for divorce, charging non-support.

insurance. During the past year, Mr. Williams remarked, the Garford company has been forced to erect a 50,000 gallon tank to provide pressure for fire protection, otherwise the insurance rates would have made business impracticable.

Another factor, he added, was the supply of labor. Unable to secure enough men, the Garford plant has been forced to turn away several large contracts which would have brought a vast amount of business to Lima. Better accommodations will bring laborers, he explained, and the way to get better accommodations will be to improve civic conditions.

Secretary Walter H. Clarke, of the Chamber of Commerce, was an impromptu speaker, discussing the economic effects of bond issues such as these. The cost, he showed, is negligible, for the water works project is self-supporting and the street and river plans will pay for themselves many times over in increased real estate value.

"During the past six years," he said, "every inch of the suburbs of Lima has increased from a minimum of 100 per cent to a maximum of 600 per cent in value. The land value is going up, and the improvements will make them go up faster." The history of Lima real estate development he traced from his first appearance in the city six years ago, showing that the rapid rise in prices has been due to the pavements, walks, sewers and water provisions made for the outlying districts. Thirty-two cents per thousand is the cost, Mr. Clark added, and the increased value of the land affected will more than pay the difference. It doesn't cost the property owner anything, he concluded, and those who own no property are getting something for nothing.

Frank E. Harman, another impromptu speaker, referred to the situation optimistically. He cited figures to prove that the valuation increment would relieve the voter of any increased taxation. The humiliating experience of two summers ago, when Lima was forced to borrow water from the Solar refinery because the city could not furnish enough for current needs, and the fact that Lima was forced to reduce the offer of the C. H. & D. to buy water at city rates, were introduced as evidence of the acute situation in the water supply. His remarks started a free discussion in which a number of the audience joined, and a rising vote showed a unanimous sentiment in favor of the bond issue.

the slightest fatigue, and the consequence is that the unprecedented carnage of the battle of Verdun goes on.

Yesterday the whole front, beaten by gas projectiles, was overhung by a yellowish cloud of chlorine vapor which seemed to be suspended from the sky. When the cloud lifted the Germans bounded forward seemingly indifferent to the thick death dealing curtain of fire from the French artillery. Some of them got through it but only to find that the French had abandoned the first line trenches to allow the gas cloud to dissipate.

German reinforcements were sent up to fortify the trenches but before they had reached the line the French came back with an irresistible counter attack and in a few minutes drove out the Germans from the few points where they had penetrated the trenches.

EDWARD M'GUIRE DIES AT HOSPITAL

Edward McGuire died last night at the City hospital, where he had been removed a few hours before. He became ill while at work Monday, but the seriousness of his condition did not develop until last night. He was an employee of the Lima Locomotive Corporation.

He resided at 743 South Elizabeth street, and leaves a wife and two brothers, Charles and Michael McGuire, and two sisters, Mrs. Franklin and Mrs. Moloney, who reside in Pennsylvania.

RICHARD HARDING DAVIS DIES

MOUNT KISCO, N. Y., April 11.—Richard Harding Davis, author and war correspondent, died at his home here last night from heart trouble. His body was found early this morning and he had apparently been stricken at the telephone.

TODAY IN CONGRESS.

House: Met at noon. Discussed calendar Wednesday business. Miss Margaret Wilson advocated a bill before a house committee to permit using school buildings for community forums.

THE IDLER

Mrs. W. W. Beachamp, with offices in the Opera House block, was called upon yesterday to amputate the left arm of Frank Wilson, of Indianapolis, who knew of the physician and came here for the operation. He was injured a month ago while alighting from a street car, being thrown under the wheels. It is believed he will recover.

The choir of the First Congregational church, under the leadership of C. E. Xander, is preparing for a musical program, to be given on Easter.

Mrs. William Hooker, of Spencer, was subjected to a serious operation at the city hospital yesterday. She is slowly recovering. Her many friends hope for speedy recovery.

The C. H. & D. railroad is to be double-tracked between Lima and Cridersville. The parcels of track not yet supplied with double tracks will be constructed, ultimately toward making the system from Toledo to Cincinnati double-tracked.

Mrs. Russell Morgan, who was subjected to a serious operation at the City hospital, two weeks ago, has been returned to her home near Salem church, having recovered.

Fred. Dart, of Gomer, has taken a position in the Ohio Electric ticket office in Lima.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Stemen, of 1007 Holmes avenue, are the parents of a son, born into their home last 1-2 pounds. The little one weighed 10 1-2 pounds.

Mrs. H. A. Thomas and W. W. Beachamp are in Ft. Wayne attending the medical meeting there. Dr. Beachamp will accompany a patient to Chicago and remain over a few days to attend the clinics.

bond issue intend to call tomorrow on a number of ministers, urging them to adopt the stand that anything beneficial to Lima as a public asset deserves public commendation. How many of the clergymen have already prepared their sermons for Palm Sunday is a matter of conjecture, but it may be that some will manage to work in the bonds under the text: "It is nothing to ye who pass by?" The Golden Rule offers an apt place for the argument that each section in Lima should help the rest to improve, and the parable of the foolish virgins would not be a half-bad introduction to the discussion of increased water supply.

MRS. KLINGER'S FUNERAL.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Klinger, the aged mother of Judge William Klinger, who died at her home at 741 North Elizabeth street, will be held Thursday at 2 o'clock at the German Reformed church. The Rev. T. W. Huernemann, the pastor, will officiate.

Many floral offerings have been sent to the home to cheer the family and as a tribute to the life of this good, old mother. Interment will be at Woodlawn.

TOLEDO PASTOR IS SOME TERROR SURE

Defies Church and Bishop With Court Order; Announces Sermon.

TOLEDO, O., April 12.—Under the protection of the court I will preach in Western Avenue M. E. church, declared Rev. Albert S. Bowersox, this morning.

"Mr. Bowersox won't preach; he has been ousted and we will call the police, if necessary, to prevent him from preaching," declared Rev. E. E. McCammon, D. D., district superintendent.

The district superintendent and church trustees agree that they voted to oust the pastor on account of unbecoming conduct. Mr. Bowersox asserted this morning that a temporary injunction which was granted late yesterday on his application will protect him in his right to occupy the pulpit. The same injunction delayed a hearing set for this morning in the court of a justice of the peace, to evict the pastor from the parsonage. The church trustees are the plaintiffs.

Mr. Bowersox this morning denied that he had been guilty of improper conduct as charged and asserted that the proceedings against him had been inspired by his activity against the saloon interests. He announced that his sermon subject on Sunday morning will be, "What is a Christian?"

The trustees have engaged Rev. C. B. Holding to preach next Sunday.

"The matter has been disposed of according to the law of the church until the session of the West Ohio Conference, which meets at Lima some time in September. The Rev. Mr. Bowersox is no longer pastor of the Toledo church and I am going to appoint a man to succeed him," declared Bishop W. F. Anderson of Cincinnati, who was named as one of the defendants in an injunction suit filed in Toledo late Tuesday. The suit was brought by the Rev. A. S. Bowersox, pastor of the Western Avenue M. E. church, who was found guilty of charges by a trial board of the church. Later their action was rescinded, but he was asked to give up pastoral work and the parsonage. The injunction suit seeks to prevent an ouster.

MINERS APPROVE COAL WAGE PACT

Contract Runs Two Years; Gives All Workers Raise.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 12.—The wage agreement adopted at a conference of the officials of the United Mine Workers of America and representatives of the coal mine owners in New York, has been ratified by a referendum vote of the members of the miners' organization, according to an announcement made by William Green, international secretary-treasurer of the union.

The vote was 84,498 in favor of the agreement and 42,832 against it. "Every district, except Michigan," said Mr. Green, "voted in favor of the adoption of the agreement. In the Indiana district, where the strongest opposition was manifested, a larger proportionate vote was cast in favor of the agreement than in any other state."

Secretary Green explained that the Michigan district was small and that the majority against the agreement there was small.

The new contract is for two years, from April 1, 1916, when the old agreement expired. It provides for the payment of mining coal on a mine run basis, an increase of 3 cents a ton and an increase of 5 percent, for day labor, dead work and yardage.

This agreement is used as a basis for the negotiations of wage contracts in all of the districts of the organization, and especially in what is known as the central competitive fields, comprising the states of Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and Western Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Florence Lomison and Mrs. Eva Davis will represent Elizabeth Turner tent, Daughters of Veterans, on the committee which will arrange for the celebration of Memorial day. They were named at a meeting, held last night. A meeting of representatives from various patriotic organizations will be held Friday night to plan for the day.

A Great Commonwealth Enriched by Our Service

Ride over the state of Ohio. See its fertile grain fields and meadows; its orchard crowned hills. Observe the thrifty, happy looking homes on every side. Go into the cities. Listen to the factories humming with industry, and busy with the production of new wealth. Study the enlightened, happy men and women you will see in town and country, and then reflect upon the meaning of all that you have seen. You will be forced to conclude that here, indeed, is a great and prosperous commonwealth.

There is not a corner of this great state that does not draw its tribute of dividends from Geiger-Jones securities. There is not a county that is not richer today because of prosperous industries that have been financed by The Geiger-Jones Company.

The function of The Geiger-Jones Company has been to facilitate the production of wealth in Ohio by gathering capital in small sums from outlying places and putting it at the disposal of growing industries. The industries we have financed now employ between fourteen and sixteen thousand people and pay out between $14,000,000 and $15,000,000 each year in wages. More than 10,000 other people are interested in them as preferred stockholders, and not one of these has ever suffered the loss of a dollar on his investment. Thus, directly and indirectly, this company has been a powerful factor during the past twelve years in adding to the wealth and prosperity of this great commonwealth.

More than 10,000 satisfied investors know by personal experience that these are the true facts about The Geiger-Jones Company—but in order to facilitate the investigations of others, we have prepared "A Portfolio of Anniversary Reports With Photographs from Manufacturing Enterprises Financed by The Geiger-Jones Company." This is an interesting 32 page publication that tells about great enterprises that are doing much day after day to enhance the prosperity of investors, manufacturers, merchants, bankers, wage-earners and farmers throughout the state. We will gladly mail a copy without expense or obligation if you will send in a post card bearing your name and address.

OHIO CONVICT WILL MAKE GERMAN DYES OF CHEAP PRODUCTS

Dr. Ritter, Confessed Tution Spy, Claims Secret Formulas.

Declares Valuable Chemicals Can be Made From Prison Garbage.

COLUMBUS, O., April 12.—Dyes will be manufactured by the Ohio penitentiary with secret German processes, if Dr. Emerich Ritter, Cleveland prisoner and self-confessed former German confidential agent, substantiates the claim he made today to Warden Thomas.

Dr. Ritter is a skilled chemist and asserts he is the inventor of "liquid fire". His confession of complicity in the Welland canal plots and other foreign agitation, created a sensation after his arrest and trial in Cleveland last fall. He finally was sentenced only for carrying concealed weapons.

Mrs. Ritter, wife of the prisoner, was on her way here today from Cleveland with small quantities of materials with which Dr. Ritter declared he will demonstrate that valuable dye stuffs, now so scarce in this country, can be made from cheap products.

"I worked in a German dye factory as confidential chemist and I positively know the process," said Dr. Ritter. "Let me have the chance and I will prove it beyond doubt. I can make the state of Ohio the greatest producer of dyes in this country—with the Honorable Warden's permission."

He spoke with a pronounced German accent, and was enthusiastic despite his four months' confinement in the prison. Persons who recall his picture, published in hundreds of newspapers over the United States several months ago, with flowing mustache, might not recognize him now with smooth face. To discuss his offer, Warden Thomas summoned him from the summer pavilion where he had been playing the piano for the prison orchestra.

The warden gave his assent to the proposal. Dr. Ritter also proposed that he be allowed to institute a system of reducing table refuse of the penitentiary and other state institutions. He explained how he could make a net profit of $7050 yearly by converting the waste into lubricating grease, starch, albuminoids, dextrin, glucose, glycerine and disinfectants. He will be given a chance to prove this also.

Black-brown, vivid red, permanent blue and yellow—these are the colors which Dr. Ritter said he would manufacture from the basketfull of materials which his wife brings. "Of course I will not tell exactly how, begging your pardon," he said. "But the principal ingredients will be fine coal dust, like that scraped from locomotives in the round house, and such acids as hydrochloric, sulphuric and nitric. The secret is in knowing just at what moment to force the various chemical reactions."

His motive was questioned. "Why, I only want to do what any man would do," he explained. "I am not trying to get free, or to get in the good graces of the officials. While I am shut up here I only want to make myself worth while and to do what I'd rather do than anything else in the world. I have been naturalized and I am going to be an American citizen."

He expressed the wish that he might have as an assistant his 18-year-old son, Emerich, Jr., who recently graduated from the technical high school at Cleveland. Several prisoners who understand chemistry will be supplied as assistants. It is probable the state board of administration will heed Dr. Ritter's claims as soon as he has established them even partially. The board also is expected to consider his proposal that garbage from state institutions all over Ohio be shipped to a state reducing plant to be erected in Columbus. The state could make a profit of about $75,000 a year, he declared.

Another ambition of Dr. Ritter, while he is confined, is to abstract gasoline of a high quality, non volatile, from natural gas. He did this successfully, it is said, just before he was arrested in Cleveland last fall. Three gallons of "78 per cent" gasoline can be taken from 1000 cubic feet of "dry" natural gas, he declared.

Every effort should be made to prevent the attacks by giving the child a night supper and plenty of fresh air at all times. The child should be warmly clad when out of doors. Especially the feet should be well protected and under no circumstances should the child be allowed to remain with wet or cold feet. Then watch for the first symptom, hoarseness, and give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy at once and the attack may be ward off. This remedy is a favorite with the mothers or croupy children and can always be depended upon. It is pleasant and safe to take. Obtainable everywhere. mo-wed-fri

CONGREGATIONALISTS WILL REMODEL CHURCH BUILDING

A complete remodeling of the First Congregational church building is to be made during the months of July and August, while the pastor, the Rev. Chester S. Bucher, is absent on his vacation. The church will be re-opened in September with a newly-decorated auditorium, a watertight roof, and a Moline vapor heating and ventilating system. These repairs and improvements will cost between $4,000 and $5,000. To secure funds to reimburse repairs, a second mortgage will be asked of the church on the church property, for not more than $5,000, to cover the cost of installing the new heating and ventilating system, excavation in the basement for the boilers, removing the tower and repairing the roof, which has been giving much trouble.

BURGLARS ROB TWO EAST SIDE HOMES

BURGLAR. Police officials were informed this morning of the burglarizing of two homes in the east end last night. Entrance in both cases was gained through windows. Rev. M. C. Howey, of 906 East Elm street, reported the theft of a graduating dress belonging to his daughter, who is to graduate from an Ohio college in June. A very old and valuable violin which was taken from the home was later found in the yard of a neighbor. The home of Dr. T. K. Jacobs in the same neighborhood was also entered but nothing stolen. Detectives working on the case believe boys did the work.

IMPROVEMENTS ARE DIRECTED IN LIMA SCHOOL BUILDINGS

Inspector Submits Reports Showing Overcrowded Conditions.

Bond Issue Will go Before Voters at Special Election.

At the meeting of the board of education last night it was decided that a special election be called to vote on bonds, Tuesday, September 26, to carry on improvements directed in the report of the state inspection department, Columbus, and for the erection of the industrial high school on the south side. More than fifteen taxpayers attended the meeting at the request of board member Dr. T. R. Terwilliger and expressed their views on the subject of the new high school and improvements.

The report submitted by the inspection department laid special stress on the overcrowded condition of most of the schools as very dangerous. This, especially so because of the faulty electric wiring of most buildings. It stated that the high school was crowded to twice its capacity and the same condition prevailed to a lesser degree in Lincoln, Franklin, Whitner, Emerson and Richardson buildings.

The inspection of the local schools was made by W. A. DeVoss of Columbus. The head of the department of state inspection mailed the following instructions to the board of education in regard to necessary improvements, that it is claimed should be made.

Additional quarters for the overcrowded condition of the high school. One or more new grade buildings for the overcrowded conditions in the grade schools.

Removal of the boilers to the outside of the high school building. Installation of new heating and ventilating systems, together with all of the above items in the grade buildings, to bring them up to answer the state code.

Improvements in the way of lighting, sanitation and ventilation were also named in the report, although the condition in all three was marked as fair. To comply with the state code it is necessary that all of the improvements suggested be completed or work started on them before the beginning of the next school term.

The following citizens attended the meeting and expressed their views to bettering building conditions. J. W. Roby, W. L. Farmer, Oscar Snyder, J. E. Grosjean, John Hutchinson, Elmer B. Mitchell, Clarence A. Heller, Thomas McLaughlin, Val Hill, City Solicitor Melvin Light, Superintendent J. E. Collins, William L. McClain and George Munfts.

Instructions were given the building and repair committee to secure rooms for the accommodation of pupils in the high school building and grade pupils whose buildings are being improved to meet the requirements of the state code. For the purpose of making temporary repairs in some of the buildings, the finance committee of the board will call on the like committee of the council to obtain funds.

The Garford Motor Truck Company is delivering this week a battery of 28 Garford trucks to the Philadelphia Evening Telegram. The publication will hold a parade through the streets of the Quaker City Friday morning, with the new trucks in line. They are intended for two kinds of work, the hauling of paper and heavy machinery to the office from railroad freight yards and the speedy transmission of papers to the various points of distribution, hence the trucks must combine high power and speed. The Garford was selected after careful survey.

TRYING TO LOCATE BRIDGE AT DELPHOS

County commissioners are just now trying to figure out the location of new bridges to be built at Delphos. According to the provisions of a new law governing the construction of bridges, given the Van Wert commissioners, who are interested jointly with Allen county, the county cannot pay for a bridge or any part thereof which is not on an inter-county road. The proposed bridge over the canal at Seventh street in Delphos will not be on an inter-county road. The technicality may be overcome, however. The Delphos Commercial club is considering the matter.

The joint board contended that if the bridge is taken from Fifth street and placed across the canal at Seventh street, the costs of the about-ments which must be built will fall on the corporation of Delphos. The county cannot act, they say.

The contract for the removal of the bridge has been let and the bridge will be moved, but the city must pay, according to the commissioners and the Van Wert prosecutor. A new bridge is to be constructed at Fifth street, in Delphos.

Careful Cincinnati People Now Treat Colds "Externally"

Take a Hot Bath—a Good Rub Down With Vick's Vap-O-Rub and Then Leave Your Bedroom Windows Wide Open for the Night. No Internal Dosing Will Be Needed.

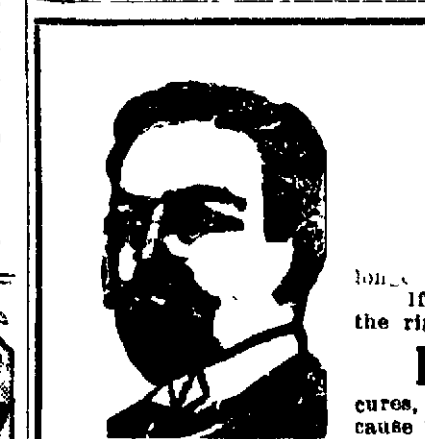

After Applying Vick's Vap-O-Rub: Over Throat and Chest, You Should Cover With a Warm Flannel Cloth. The Body Heat Vaporizes the Ingredients Which are Breathed In All Night Long.

In the old days people used to think that fresh air caused colds, and consumptives and pneumonia patients were shut up in air tight rooms, and, as a result, usually died. Nowadays, we know that for all forms of cold troubles, the more good fresh air we can get, the quicker is the recovery.

Cincinnati people have found the best treatment to be a good rub with Vick's Vap-O-Rub Salve, covered with a warm flannel cloth, and then leave the windows wide open for the night. The body warmth releases the ingredients in the form of vapors that carry the medication, with each breath, through the air passages to the lungs. Croup is usually relieved in fifteen minutes, and most colds over night.

Here is what Cincinnati people say:

FALL'S FALLACY

Senator Fall of New Mexico, two weeks ago, demanded of President Wilson his authority for asserting that Americans were spreading false reports from the border in order to make trouble with the anachronistic republic of Mexico. Today he is traveling about the Rio Grande region writing letters on the "awful" aspects of the situation, which are entered into the Congressional Record by his colleague. Fall should take a fall to himself—he is a living example of the intervention-annexation interests.

The senator in question owns vast tracts of land in Mexico, valuable for the production of ore, oil and cattle. He obtained them as Hearst obtained his ranch, as the "Harriman estate" railroads obtained their lands and as various iron, gold, copper and oil interests secured the huge monopolies which they have exploited at the expense of the Mexicans. They bought their franchises and concessions from the elder Diaz by bribery, and the usurpation by Wall Street interests of the rights of Mexican people led to the revolution of 1911.

Fall represents the class which would have the United States send thousands of American boys, unprepared and underequipped, to their death, if necessary, to protect ill-gotten blue-sky projects which have made their owners wealthy. He represents the class of Americans which hired Villa to force intervention and which supplied him liberally with arms and money so that his raid on Columbus might be possible. He represents the class which will do anything to force invasion, and failing to fool Wilson will do anything to defeat him for re-election.

Two weeks ago he denied the president's assertion that Americans were making trouble by false reports. Today he is himself spreading reports calculated to make trouble—the denial of his own sincerity and the proof of his own unfitness to be in the senate. The man who wishes to bait the president must have his hands clean, for the president's are, beyond doubt.

SLIPPING ONE OVER

Misguided Henry Ford, bent on defeating the preparedness program of the president at any cost, is advertising in the leading metropolitan papers of the nation, buying full page spaces and writing the "ads" himself. It is hardly probable that he is doing it to advertise himself or his car, for he is noted for simplicity and sincerity, but his managers may be utilizing his benevolence in order to spread the doctrine for publicity purposes.

Ford is as little qualified to advise the American public as any man in the nation, for in a jocular way he stated after his nomination for the presidency in the Michigan primaries that he had voted but two or three times in a score or more of years. Yet he thinks that he knows all there is to know about preparedness, hence his ads.

The Chicago Tribune published yesterday a full page advertisement signed by Henry. It attacked the Navy league in almost vituperative terms. In an editorial the Tribune stated that it published the matter merely to expose the fallacies in the anti-preparedness program. It is a Bull Moose and Harvester Trust sheet, devoted blindly to Roosevelt, yet the owners see the handwriting on the wall and are on the preparedness bandwagon with a big horn.

As soon as the money for the ad, more than $800, reached the Tribune office the manager sent it to the treasurer of the Navy league. Ford may object to the ethical end of that transaction, but the paper did the right thing from a patriotic standpoint. It helped Ford get his advertising, and the public a chance to see the weakness in the anti-preparedness propaganda and aided a loyal, patriotic organization to further the program of urging a larger navy. Thus does a good citizen thwart the schemes of a misguided advocate of impracticable doctrines.

The man who says "in case of doubt vote 'no'" will confer a favor by remaining at home April 25. No man need vote against the bond issues because of ignorance thereof, for the matter is simple enough for any intelligent man who will devote half an hour's thought. The interests of Lima are too important to be blocked by misunderstandings.

Prof. von Mach says that Morgan's life would not be worth much in Germany at present because of his participation in the Anglo-French loan. How about Kuhn, Loeb and Company, the Guggenheims or Vanderlip? Would their names constitute protective coloration?

Those who dislike the way in which the United States is being run must admit, in view of present conditions, that it has a bulge on most of the others as a quiet, peaceful, prosperous place in which to raise children.

Senator Harding will have a fascinating problem on his hands at Chicago when he starts to sound a hymn in which both Roosevelt and Barnes can join. But what tuning fork could do that?

The old-fashioned man who put up the stove every fall now has a son who hires a boy to carry out the ashes from the furnace and who deplores the high cost of living.

This is the age of efficiency. A Massachusetts man uses mirrors to deflect sunlight so as to strike gardens on the shady side of a house.

Even if Villa is dead as reported, his place in history is fixed. He was once Hearst's candidate for president of Mexico.

Holland is arming for war. Must have her Dutch up.

NEW MOVIELAND

By DAISY DEAN

 "A kiss seen through a microscope, a salad made from a chrysanthemum and an orchid, drenched in the blood of a rose. If peaches were people."

Perhaps this description led the Fox Company to take Miss Hawley away from the Lubin people at a big salary. Miss Hawley is best known through her work for the latter company, with which she was associated for a number of years. Some of her most important roles for the Philadelphia concern were leads in "The Nation's Peril" and "Race Suicide." Before going into pictures, Miss Hawley had extended stage experience.

Jap Makes Love to Sweet Anita.
 Picture the palpitating heart and the anxious brain of the swain, who sent this offer to the heroine of the Vitagraph. He must be a good boy, regardless of the fact that he is some nobility, for see what he has to say:

"Tokyo, March 1, 1916.
 "Dear Misses Anita Stewart, of the Vitagraph of the motion pictures.

"Brooklyn City, New York, American, United States.
 "As I have addressed you in other days before, and you most gracious have sent of your pictures, I shall be great joyful still in this month if you by and by marry me.

"Japan where the kingdom my father is noble, is of flowers most kindly and fair and many wives are happy. To you I would give great gifts of Oki since you are like flowers in the sun. If you in a day quickly you will send me an answer, I shall be of glad heart and shall tell my mother so. With love and favor.

"CHOGI YACHI."

Myrtle Didn't Feel Complimented.
 Myrtle Stedman, Morocco star, sat down in a suburban car beside a little woman in black. This was near Los Angeles.

"I'm going to a charity concert," said the little woman, "and they are going to have an actress there to sing. I don't exactly approve of having actresses at church affairs."

The Searchlight

MARBLE FOR LIGHT SHADES.

Marble cut into thin slices ranging from a tenth of an inch to a quarter of an inch in thickness, is now being used for electric light shades both in homes and public buildings. It gives a softer light than the opalescent glass which it is replacing. The amount of light transmitted is about equal, but the diffusive power of marble is greater. The effect of the heat upon the marble gives it a slight glow causing the delicate natural veining to show up with beautiful effect. Marble is not affected by sudden changes of temperature, and hence is more durable than glass.

RHEUMATIC PAIN STOPPED.

The drawing of muscles, the soreness, stiffness and agonizing pain of rheumatism quickly yield to Sloan's Liniment. It stimulates circulation to the painful part. Just apply as directed to the sore spots. In a short time the pain gives way to a tingling sensation of comfort and warmth. Here's proof—"I have had wonderful relief since I used your Liniment on my knee. To think one application gave me relief. Sorry I haven't space to tell you the history. Thanking you for what your remedy has done for me."—James S. Ferguson, Philadelphia. Sloan's Liniment kills pain. 25c at druggists.

REHABILITATING DAMAGED PLACE.

St. Pierre, Martinique, which was destroyed by the eruption of Mount Pelée in 1902, is again beginning to assume the importance of a town, according to the United States consul at Pt. de France. The surrounding country is also being rehabilitated. Plantations have again been brought under cultivation and the cultivated area is increasing every year.

If you are not using Zonite in the bath you are missing all the exhilarating and beneficial effects of a sea water bath. Sea water contains Chlorine. The active agent in Zonite is Chlorine.

Zonite

The Non-Poisonous, Antiseptic, Disinfectant, Germicide, Deodorant.

Zonite is the most effective and practical for household use. Peroxide is known to have no germicidal value. Carbolic Acid is poisonous and very dangerous. Cresote products have offensive taste and odor besides many other poisonous. Zonite has all the advantages and none of the objections, and in addition has a wider scope of uses than ever before attained by any similar preparation. Zonite is the most economical product of its kind. Full pint 25c, quart 40c, gallon $1 at all drug stores. Zonite has 100 vital uses in the home full explained in illustrated booklet accompanying each bottle.

Ormai Hawley.

She is now at work on her first multiple-reel feature for the Fox company.

Do you?"
 "It's hard for me to judge," was the smiling reply. "I'm the actress."

Arthur Maude, the Broadway favorite, recently was reminded of days long ago. He played "extra" in a prize fight scene, and as the camera was "panned" over to his section he shouted and gesticulated as wildly as the rest.

Anna Little is wearing mourning. The reason is her favorite horse, Hanger, recently broke both front legs during a mountain journey, and in the absence of a veterinarian it was necessary to shoot the suffering animal.

TRAVELETTE

BY NIKSAM.

MOGADOR.

Arabs of the desert call Mogador "the Picture." The Moorish city does not look like a picture if you approach it from the seaward on a Marseilles boat, but as the folks of the desert ride in, their mounts trudging heavily through the hot, muffling sand, the white houses and minarets of the seaport rise like a blessed mirage, holding out promise of drink and coolness that is no mockery but a reality. So the desert folk call her "the Picture."

Mogador is really one of the cleanest and most attractive of Oriental towns—for Oriental she is, though she lies on the shore of the Atlantic. Her 20,000 people are equally divided between Mohammedans and Jews of the Orient; there are less than a hundred Europeans in the town. All three religions get along in greater amity than is generally the case under such circumstances. Many of the higher class Mohammedans have adopted a few of the ways of Paris, and are correspondingly amenable. Only on special feast-days, when the tide of fanaticism among the uneducated runs high, do Christians stay within doors.

For the most part, Mogador is a matter-of-fact city sweltering good-humoredly in the sun. Even the sweltering is not very strenuous, for the climate is really attractive at most seasons of the year; the dark, thick-walled houses with their gay blue doors are always cool. There is little mystery of the Orient about Mogador. She is gratifyingly understandable.

There are constant reminders, of course, that this is the land of Mohammed. There are the mosques—locally called "moodhins"—calling the faithful to prayer at four in the morning—surely a severe test of any faith. There are the camels laden with thorny desert firewood, and camels always suggest a land of Mohammed rather than of Christianity, though Christianity was born in a land of camels. Above all, there are the beggars.

Beggars hold an honorable place in the territories of Islam. Charity is a duty, hence some one to accept charity is necessary.

HEALTH HINTS

MOTOR LABORATORY IS A BIG AID TO WAR VICTIMS

Side by side devices for dealing death and for saving life speed over the battlefields of Europe. The introduction into field operations of complete mobile laboratories is one of the newest and most novel features of the British field force. In the earlier stages of the campaign one or two were tried out and found successful. Recently a whole "fleet" of them have been put into service.

Each can do its work, if necessary, even in a neighborhood where buildings are lacking and where huge shells may be screaming overhead.

The common aim of these laboratories is to provide any additional scientific data which may be required when the general principles of preventive medicine are being applied at the real front. They often may be had by wearing bun-age due to contagion, air-borne, food-borne or water-borne disease. The work includes tests of every man of a division who was known or suspected to have suffered from typhoid fever with a view to discovery and removal of carriers.

Some useful work also has been done in dealing with typhoid fever among the Flemish, in addition to all actual cases being brought under treatment, and the homes of patients put into proper sanitary condition.

Has a Bunion.

I have a bunion. It is extremely painful. Can you tell me what causes it and what to do for it?
 J. M.

Bunions result from pressure.

They are usually on the side of the foot at the base of the big toe and caused by the spreading of the arch of the ball of the foot. The proper treatment is to have the bone of the foot straightened. Sometimes an operation is necessary. Relief often may be had by wearing bunion plasters.

THE DAY WILL SURELY COME

When the telephone will be included in his design by the wide-awake promoter of business and flat buildings as fully as heating and lighting arrangements.

The telephone is so established as an essential of modern life that every real estate promoter knows the class of tenants he wants, invariably will want the telephone. He will install a telephone in every flat the same as steam radiators.

Then he will advertise "free telephone service" as one of the attractions of the office or flat. It is part of the modern idea of providing all and perfected facilities for one price, simplifying the transactions for the renter.

The presence of upwards of 8,000 telephones in Lima would be significant, would it not, in showing the rapidity with which the value of the telephone has won its way in this city.

Growth of population helps, prosperity helps, fast and convenient service helps, but appreciation of the telephone as the daily aid and time-saver helps most of all.

Clothes of Culture
 STYLED IN NEW YORK
 BY
 Samuel W. Peck & Co

Of style will find a response to his expectations if he'll drop in here and see the 1916 Spring and Summer Models of our "Better Clothes."

Michael's

Grace Compels Bob to Buy a Suit

Grace paused at the step. "Now, look here, Bob Corson, you have got to have some new clothes, too," she said dictatorially.

"So?" Bob asked.

"Yes, sir, you do. 'Im not going to be dressed like a sore finger myself, and expect my husband to wear threadbare clothes. If I'm entitled to a wedding outfit, you are, too."

"I yield," said Bob, and then turning to the driver, "take us down to MICHAEL'S CLOTHING STORE."

"Now, if we can only keep up this speed, we'll be all right," said Grace, reaching over and taking his hand. "This is surely some eventful day, isn't it?" she said, smiling.

"I'll say so," said Bob.

They arrived at the Michael store and Bob sprang out. "Aren't you coming?" he asked, turning to find Grace had not moved.

"I don't know much about clothes," she answered, laughing.

"Oh, come on. I'll be wanting you to go down Saturday nights and buy my clothes in about a year."

She followed him to the suit department. From out of an array of every style and kind of clothes, the salesman, Mr. Jolly, showed suit after suit. Grace stood by, eyes wide open with interest. "This is a strange experience for me," she whispered to Bob, while the salesman, Mr. Jolley was getting another style.

Bob tried on three models, all of which he thought were handsome and low priced, until he found one that suited his fancy in every particular. He feared it would be the most expensive, and was greatly surprised when the clerk told him it was only $20.00.

"It is an all wool, well made, well lined coat," said the salesman.

Bob moved over closely to the mirror and went through a series of manoeuvres much to Grace's delight, while inspecting himself.

"And then men say they are not vain!" Grace exclaimed, after a moment.

Bob did not seem to notice. He went on with his inspection. Every inch of the cloth seemed to fit him perfectly, and the style was just what he had seen a month before when in New York.

"I believe that's all right," he said. "What do you think about it dear?"

"I think it looks very, very well," she said.

"It is only $20.00, too, and that's an object," Bob commented in a whisper, while the salesman, Mr. Jolly, was finding the trousers. Bob excused himself for a moment, and soon came out of the little booth clad in the entire suit. "It fits me to a T," he said.

"It looks wonderfully well," said Grace.

Bob took the suit on the spot, and after getting into his own clothes again, asked the salesman if he could deliver the suit, as he was not going home right away, and could not handily take it with him.

As they hurried back to their machine, Grace said she had never seen such well made clothes at such a low price. "I wish women could dress as inexpensively as men," she said, "but somehow it seems that there is no permanency in styles of dresses."

Grace Wants Some Candy

"Now we ought to go up to THE CENTRAL NEWS STAND and get some of the best candy for the best girl in the country," said Bob. They were soon there.

"Let's see your box candy," said Grace, to Mr. Snook, as she peered through the show cases at the attractive display.

Mr. Snook brought out half a dozen boxes of various descriptions and weights. "We have candy from 40 cents to $1.00 a pound, and we take particular pride in offering the best makes. We sell nothing but the best candy. I am sure you will find this product most delicious."

"I think we ought to have about five pounds, don't you Bob?" Grace asked.

"Now, I'll leave that to you, dear," he said. "You know more about how much you ought to buy than I do. You know we said you would buy the candy and I would look after the cigars."

They took a box of Mr. Snook's candy, and were about to leave with it when Mr. Snook called to them: "Won't you let us deliver that for you?" he asked.

"Can you do it right away?" Bob said.

"Certainly we have a splendid delivery system, and can get it up to your house in a little while."

Bob gave the address.

"Now that's the way that store makes business," Bob observed as they left.

"Well, if they will deliver the candy," said Grace, "I might as well send along a box of this Highland linen stationery and one of those good books to read in our new home."

Rugs Purchased as Starter

They drew up in front of THE HOOVER-ROUSH FURNITURE STORE.

"They have wonderful values in rugs here," said the bride. "I've always hoped I could get mine here when we were married."

"Well we can," said Bob as he helped her down from the machine. "This is a gold mine for brides and grooms because they get so much good reliable goods for their money"

Mr. Roush met them at the door. He directed them to the rug department. There they found rugs of all qualities and sizes.

"Isn't that a beauty?" said Grace, as she sat on her chair and watched the salesman unroll a large rug. "I believe it would just be the thing for our living room."

The salesman went behind a row of stock and Bob stole a kiss. "Isn't this the wierdest honeymoon ever?" he asked gazing fondly into her eyes.

The appearance of the salesman interrupted the love making. He showed rug after rug. Bob and Grace were amazed at the low prices asked for such superior quality. They soon made a selection and after leaving the number of the room in which each rug was to go to be tied on the outside, and making arrangements for paying for them, asked that they be delivered at once.

"We'll send them right up," said the salesman. "Thank you very much."

Curtains and Drapes Next

"Now where shall we go for the curtains and over-drapes?" said Grace thoughtfully as she led the way out of the door.

"Back to THE HOOVER-ROUSH STORE," said Bob. "They have an excellent line of fabrics, best in the town. Let's walk, it's only a step."

Grace assented and giving the driver directions, hurried away.

They found the Hoover-Roush Store ready to receive them and the polite floor man directed them to the proper counter. A moment later they were bending over the wavy fabric as it was unrolled.

"Here is some beautiful stuff," Grace said adoringly as she felt of one of the patterns. "How much is this?"

The clerk examined the mark and told her.

"My how reasonable!" she said. "I thought it would be much more. You certainly do have wonderful values here."

The clerk smiled.

"We try to give our customers every dollar's worth of value," he said.

They were not long in making a decision. The stock was so complete and handsome that Grace was in ecstasies. Bob's information about windows was drawn upon and 20 minutes later they were in the taxicab hurrying down the street.

THE FAUROT'S PICTURES.

Oliver Morosco has made "The Code of Marcia Gray," in which Constance Collier is appearing at the Faurot, a photoplay of genuine distinction. There is a moving story, admirably handled by the producer and magnificently acted by Miss Collier and the splendid cast in her support. The settings and photography are of exquisite charm. The picture is a credit to Mr. Morosco and the Paramount program and will be eminently satisfying to the spectator. "The Code of Marcia Gray" is accompanied by Burton Holmes' pictures of San Francisco. Last times tonight.

STAR THEATRE.
The new program at the Star theatre today includes "Public Approval," a three-reel Laemmle drama with Agnes Vernon in the leading role, and "Some Honey-moon," a Nestor comedy with Lee Moran and Billie Rhodes as principals.

FAUROT-JOHN DREW.

John Drew has the most entertaining role in his new play, "The Chief," which was supplied him by Horace Annesley Vachell. It is that of the Earl of Yester, for it must be known that this smart play is essentially English in characterization and scene. But it simply suited Mr. Vachell's purpose to make his people and his scenes English. As for his story it might be laid anywhere on the face of the planet where men and women mate and work and strive for their own happiness and that of others who are dear to them. If you ever had an idea that an Earl was an extraordinary personage who could not breathe ordinary air and who was surrounded by an atmosphere of dignity that you could never—that is never if you were that common thing, an ordinary person—penetrate, Mr. Drew will cheerfully disabuse your mind in this regard. As he shows the Earl he is a likable man and so thoroughly human that he has headaches and all that. Of one thing you are sure and that is that he has a heart and when he would marry the woman who was his first love and it looks as if fate were going to interpose and upset his happiness 'p ufeel truly sorry for him. The story makes a sympathetic clutch at your feelings and it gives you a few moments of real suspense in the final scenes. Mr. Drew is to present "The Chief" at the Faurot on Thursday night and the seats for his performance are now on sale. The company surrounding the comedian is made up of capable and intelligent players.

LIMA GIRL SCORES BIG SUCCESS IN 'UNDINE'.

Those who were able to get into the Royal last night proved what drawing powers a "girl from the home town" has; for as many were turned away because of inability to care for the crowds as were able to see the famous Bluebird attraction, "Undine." This will be shown again for the last time today, so the popular Royal will no doubt draw capacity again today. "Undine," however, is in itself worthy of a record-breaking attendance, for the feature itself by directed by Henry Otto; the settings are among the beautiful Catalina Islands, California, and the hundred pretty girls depicting as mermaids give this De Luxe picture such a fantastic touch that one imagines himself carried away to Fairyland. The production is not without its dramatic and romantic tinge, nevertheless, for Undine is sent out of the Enchanted Forest to atone on earth for the sin which her mother had committed in permitting herself to fall in love with a human being. One of the spectacular features is the 130 foot dive of Ida Schnall, one of the world's greatest divers, athlete and swimmer. The dive is all the more dangerous because the dive is made into one of the most treacherous currents on the ocean. Seeing is appreciating, and the assertion that "it is better than Neptune's Daughter" is well authenticated in the pictures themselves.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Baseball Season
Opened By Major
Teams Tomorrow

NEW YORK, April 12.—With the umpires' cry, "Play ball!" in Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, New York, Boston, St. Louis, Philadelphia and Brooklyn base ball will inaugurate its 1916 season, this afternoon, which from present indications bids fair to be the most successful, artistically and financially, in the 34 odd years of base ball history.

In the National league, which begins its forty-first season, the initial contests will bring together Boston at Brooklyn; New York at Philadelphia; Chicago at Cincinnati and Pittsburgh at St. Louis.

Many of these clubs have been strengthened during the past winter and every indication points to close races for the pennants. The defunct Federal league and the minor circuits have been fine-combed for diamond talent. In some cases famous stars will be seen in strange uniforms, but once the players and fans have accustomed themselves to the new combinations, the general prediction of a "banner year in base ball" seems likely to be realized.

Boston Clubs Favorites.
While there is a vast difference of opinion among close followers of the game regarding the order in which the teams will finish the season, the two Boston clubs appear to have the greatest number of backers, although the eleventh hour sale of Tris Speaker has not improved the chances of the Boston Americans. In the National league Boston, Philadelphia, Brooklyn and New York are generally picked to finish in the first division.

In the senior league the Philadelphia club, which won last season's pennant, starts the 1916 campaign with almost the same line up as a year ago. Manager Moran believes that the Phillies will repeat their winning performance, but many critics disagree with him. The Philadelphia club is fully as strong as last season, but the general strengthening of the other clubs will make the going harder for the Quakers this year.

The Boston Braves, runners-up to the Phillies last season, are considered by many experts to be the class of the National league this year. The team has been strengthened by the addition of several former Federal league players, including Ed Konetchy, Frank Allen and Elmer Knott.

Brooklyn is Liked.
George Stallings again will appear in the managerial role, while Percy Haughton, the famous Harvard foot ball coach, now president of the club, which changed ownership during the winter. The infield and pitching department are unusually strong, with a fair outfield and catching corps.

Brooklyn, which wound up the 1915 race in third place, appears to be fully as efficient as a year ago. Manager Robinson predicts that the club will be a pennant factor this year from the very start. The infield and pitching corps are the strongest features of the Superba combination. The catching department, due to the acquisition of Chief Meyers, is stronger than last year. The outfield, with Johnston in the line-up, should be fairly effective.

The winning ability of the Chicago club, which finished fourth a year ago, is uncertain. Toe Tinker has been valiantly trying to produce a winning combination from the amalgamated Cubs and Chicago Federals, but has found some of his veterans lacking in the speed he desires. Team play has suffered somewhat from the fact that the players are not entirely accustomed to each other, while unexpected weakness in the infield and poor hitting have developed. Nevertheless, critics in Chicago believe the team will soon round into formidable shape.

Pittsburgh is another club which starts the season with a new manager at the helm. Jimmy Callahan, the 1916 leader, expects his team to finish in the first division, in place of fifth last year. The Pirates have a number of new players and it probably will take the best part of the season to weld the old and new material into an effective combination.

Huggins Likes Team.

Miller Huggins, manager of the St. Louis Nationals, holders of sixth place last year, predicts a good season for his team if his infield will stand the strain. He will not send his own name in as a player. Betzel will take the veteran's place at second base, while Beck will play his old position at third. The gap at shortstop will be filled by Roy Corhan, who made a good record in the Pacific Coast league.

Cincinnati is picked by many to make the best showing of any of the western clubs. The Reds have secured a number of former Federalers since last season when the team finished in seventh place including Hal Chase, who, while a member of the New York Americans, played first base in a manner that made him one of the stars of the junior league. If Chase puts his heart and head into his play he will be a great assistance to Manager Herzog, who has an excellent pitching staff, good outfield, fair infield and catching corps.

From last place a year ago to a first division berth is the prediction made by the supporters of the New York club. The Giants undoubtedly have strengthened since last season, but it appears unlikely that Manager McGraw's plan can come back and make a successful fight for the pennant this year. The addition of Kaut, Roush and Raridon from the Federal ranks will help materially. The outfield is the best that the Giants have had in many seasons in batting, fielding and throwing. The infield is unbalanced and an uncertain quantity.

Captains
Have Feed
at Y.M.C.A.

At the supper given the boy captains of the nine grammar school baseball teams last night at the Y. M. C. A., R. E. West, captain of the Flinton College varsity nine, gave the lads a rousing address on the changes of the national pastime. H. M. Rooney, boys' secretary, also addressed the boys.

Final preparations for the opening of the season have been completed. It is expected that games will be played at Murphy street grounds, Haller street diamonds and Farrer park. Five umpires have been signed to officiate at the games, four of which will be played each Friday, and the fifth on Saturday.

Evers Sells Interest

TROY, N. Y., April 12.—John J. Evers, captain and second baseman of the Boston National league team yesterday disposed of his interests in the Troy State league baseball team. Evers is said to have made this move at the suggestion of the management and owners of the Braves, who expressed a desire to have his entire services and interest and did not want him to be hampered in any way by the worries attendant upon another ball club.

Fast Crew
From West
Will Race

SEATTLE, Wash., April 12.—Prospects for the University of Washington rowing crew to race the crack eastern crews appeared brighter today, following the action of the university faculty in voting to permit the oarsmen to go east this summer if the eastern crews cannot be induced to make the western trip. The University of Washington crew wrestled the Pacific coast collegiate rowing championship from Stanford University last Friday. The faculty favored a proposition advanced by crew supporters to bring the winner of the Harvard-Yale race and the winner of the Poughkeepsie regatta here this summer for a race with Washington. If this cannot be arranged, the faculty voted permission for the Washington oarsmen to make the trip east to participate in the Poughkeepsie regatta.

Race Is On

NOME, Alaska April 12.—Five dog teams, driven by five of the most skillful drivers in the south, are swinging along the snow trail from Nome to Candle today in the ninth annual All-Alaska Sweepstakes race. The course, from Nome to Candle and return, measures 412 miles.

Robert Brown, driving 14 malamutes, and Fred Ayer, with his 14 fox hounds, were first to reach Council, 85 miles from Nome, late yesterday. The time to Council for the leaders was 8 hours and 43 minutes. Leonard Zeppala was 11 minutes behind the two leaders and was followed 11 minutes later by Fay Delzene. Paul Kjegstaf was last.

Williams Wins

BALTIMORE, Md., April 12.—Kid Williams, bantamweight champion, had things all his own way in a ten-round bout with Battling Lahn of Brooklyn, here last night. Williams made a chopping block of his opponent throughout. Lahn was groggy from the fifth round until the final bell. In the sixth round he was knocked down twice. He was saved by the bell, which found him lying on his back. Lahn had to be carried to his corner, but he was able to come back in the seventh. He managed to hold on to the end, though in bad shape.

Close of Tourney
Tonight

Although the bowling tournament at the Allen County club comes to a close tonight, another tourney is being opened at Ike's place on the south side. Some very interesting scores are predicted from indications of the high class entry list.

Each event of the tourney was broken into last night by unit winning contestants. The Molars in the five-man event, Connel and Wilson in doubles, and Barrington in singles. The close of the tourney will be marked by the rolling of five two-man teams and four contestants in singles.

Negotiations Between Star and
Dunn Underway

CLEVELAND, O., April 12.—Tris Speaker, star outfielder of the Boston American team, recently purchased by the Cleveland American league club, arrived here yesterday to make the final arrangements for his transfer, but refused to sign a contract. Negotiations will be continued this morning, when James C. Dunn, owner of the Cleveland club, expects to find a way out of the difficulty.

While Speaker and Dunn last night had no difficulty in agreeing upon a salary figure, Speaker insisted that J. J. Lannin, president of the Boston club, pay him $5,000 of the purchase price received from Cleveland. Before leaving Boston, Speaker tried to arrange this with Lannin, but failed. Last night Dunn attempted to reach Lannin by wire to effect a settlement, but could get in touch with the Boston owner. It was believed that Dunn Speaker would reach a satisfactory settlement today in case L. Speaker should persist in his refusal. Neither Speaker nor Dunn made any statement last night upon the conference this morning. It was intimated that the salary figure Speaker is well in excess of $9,000 which had been offered latter by the Boston club.

Former Villa General, and Juarez Officer Die For Plotting.

Force Nine Other Condemned
Prisoners to Watch Executions.

JUAREZ, Mex., April 12.—Nicholas Chavarria, a former Villa general, Jose Ynez Borroel, who fought with Pasqual, and Florencio Hernandez, an officer of the Juarez garrison, were put to death on the old cemetery execution grounds at daylight.

They were charged by Carranza officials with plotting a mutiny of the garrison troops which was to have been followed by a general up-rising here and at El Paso, across the Rio Grande.

Gen. Gavira, the commandant at Juarez, announced that the men had made full confessions.

"There are plenty more of the conspirators in the cartel," said Gen. Gavira.

"Will any others be executed?" the general was asked.

"Quien sabe?" was the reply, accompanied by a shrug and a smoke puff.

Monday night the prisoners, numbering an even dozen, were informed that sunrise was the finally appointed time. It was not a false alarm.

At 4:30 the officer in charge of the firing squad called on the head guard at the cartel. No words were wasted.

The dozen prisoners were awakened, their arms bound behind them with half-inch grass rope and, guarded by a detachment of the twenty-seventh infantry, they were compelled to head a procession down the darkened street and out to the ancient cemetery with its bright blue crucifixes of wood and rocks piled over hundreds of new graves.

Many others have stood against this same old adobe wall in the past two years. It bears almost as many bullet marks as the faces of most of the Mexican soldiers bear cock marks.

Before their backs were placed against the wall the prisoners were carried to a nearby corner of the cemetery, their arms were unbound and they were furnished with spades. Understanding, and without comment, they commenced to dig their own graves.

The soldiers chatted and smoked cigarettes while the condemned men made their final beds. Meanwhile the wives and children of the prisoners, perched on the cemetery fence a few rods away, watch and waited and shouted good-bys.

Down in Mexico there is no clause in the constitution against the inflicting of cruel and unusual punishments.

When the graves seemed deep enough to be buzzard proof, the prisoners were moved over toward the old adobe wall. The dozen were divided into squads of three, according to firing squad custom.

The first squad, composed of Chavarria, Borroel and Hernandez, was first signed to take their stands against the wall. The members of the other squads for the time being became spectators.

"We are ready, mi capitán," said Chavarria, who was a general, and therefore must die with something of a flourish. Custom again.

"Gracias, señor" (thank you), responded the captain, not to be outdone in courtesy. "You first, mi general." He conferred an honor on Chavarria, who nodded appreciatively.

"Would you remove my sombrero, please and give me a cigaret?" he asked.

The hat was removed and the cigaret rolled, lit and placed between his lips.

"Viva Mexico!" cried Chavarria as the rifles of the firing squad came to the level.

"Fire!" ordered the captain, and the death volley crashed out.

Borroel was the next to go. Starting ahead, he faced the guns and removed his sombrero.

"Viva Mexico!" he cried and died beside his comrade, as did Hernandez an instant later.

There was an uneasy shifting by the members of the three remaining squads, all wondering which was to be the next.

There was to be no next. The captain announced that the nine remaining prisoners were to be returned to the cartel and wait for another day.

COAL MINERS STRIKE.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., April 12.—Three hundred miners of the Dunn Kirk coal company's mine near here strike today when their demand that they be hauled to their places of work inside the mine on an electric train was refused. The company is willing to haul those who work more than 3,500 feet inside the mine, but declines to carry those employed nearer the mine entrance.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS
AFFECT WALL ST.

NEW YORK, April 12.—The delicate status of international affairs was again reflected in today's early dealings, special stocks declining 1 to 3 points after an irregular opening. Standard shares were heavy, also, but recessions in that quarter were less pronounced. There was extensive selling of such favorites as Crucible Steel, the Maraca, United Fruit, Industrial Alcohol and Metals, especially the zinc shares. United States Steel was lower by a point, and Bethlehem Steel fell 1 1/2 to 46 1/2. Among the railroads losses were limited to fractions. The course of the market suggested liquidation from out-of-town sources.

Supporting orders resulted in rallies of 1 to over 2 points before the end of the first hour and the short interest, which helped to bring about the early setback, felt impelled to cover contracts because of the seeming scarcity of stocks. On the rebound the market relapsed into the stagnant state of the previous day, traders holding off pending receipt of more definite advice from Berlin. Interest in the foreign situation was heightened by the continued weakness of French and Russian exchange, the Paris check falling to a new low record. Bonds were steady.

CARING FOR WAR REFUGEES TASK NOT COMPLETED

Need For Aid For Homeless Women and Children is Growing.

HOLLAND DOES NOBLY

France Has Relief Well Organized and Provides Work.

Frederic J. Haskin.

WASHINGTON, D. C. April 10.—Since the first wave of sympathy for the Belgians subsided, comparatively little has been heard about the destitute of Europe. The impression of the average reader is that Belgians have been pretty well cared for, and that the other nations are able to provide for their own people. As a matter of fact, there are today thousands of homeless women and children, not only Belgian, but also French, Polish, Russian and Serbian, and the problem of supporting them is a constantly growing one. Never has there been greater need for funds and volunteers.

There are a 140,000 refugees children in colonies in southern France and as many in towns around Paris. Besides which, there are many small Belgians in Holland, whose parents have been killed or become separated from them in the hasty exodus from the invaded cities. Holland has done nobly in caring for these refugees suddenly thrust upon her, but Holland already is overpopulated and she cannot possibly take care of them all.

Hundreds of women, children and old men are continually being rendered homeless by the military decrees which order the complete destruction of a town before the invasion of the enemy. The officers desire no spies left in the villages, no food and cattle for the opposing armies and no buildings to act as protection for artillery. With their homes destroyed, and with nothing but the clothing on their bodies and what little food they can hastily gather together, these weaker ones whom men go to war to protect, are compelled to take to the road. In the winter slush and snow only the fittest can survive.

In France, the work of caring for these unfortunates is well organized, mostly American. The convents of the Roman Catholic and Episcopal churches have thrown open their doors to the refugee children, where they are provided for by the relief committees and taught by the nuns to knit stockings and to make lace of beautiful and intricate patterns, the sale of which sometimes goes far toward defraying their expenses.

The Franco-American committee for the protection of children of the frontier, consisting of such prominent Americans as Mrs. Cooper Hewitt; Mrs. Robert W. Bliss, wife of the secretary of the American Embassy in Paris; the Countess Pierre de Viel-Castel, formerly an American girl; Mrs. Frances G. Shaw and Mrs. William H. Hill of Boston, and Mrs. Frederick R. Coudret of New York, is one of the most influential committees taking care of children. Its members go out and gather the children from the road, bring them to the receiving stations which have been established, wash and provide them with absolute necessities, and then place among the different colonies maintained by the committee.

The committee came into existence through the efforts of Mr. Coudret. At the beginning of the war the usual military decree was issued ordering the razing of the towns around the fortifications at Belfort in Alsace and the evacuation of the people. Over 50,000 persons, largely women and children, were sent adrift, homeless wanderers. To every woman who had a husband, father or brother in the army on whom she is dependent for support, the French government paid twenty francs a day, and to every child who means of support in the army, it gave ten francs a day; but for the great number who happened not to have male relatives there is no provision whatever. To these children, cast from Belfort, went Mr. Coudret with his friend M. Cruppi, formerly French foreign minister, and placed them in an old seminary where they gathered together at Yvetot, half way between Havre and Rouen. The old seminary had room for 400 beds, which the good wives of the village were asked to contribute together with such food and clothing as they could spare, to be used until funds could be raised.

The least that can be said of the French people is that they are energetic. The village adopted the children with great gusto, the women teaching the girls housework and the old men instructing the boys in carpentry, woodcarving, and other trades. Later, however, the French government needed the seminary for a war hospital and the meantime, Mr. Coudret had been instrumental in forming the Franco-American committee, which then took charge of the colony.

Many private chateaux and country homes have been put at the disposal of committees engaged in the rescue of refugee children. At La Jonchere, the country home of Mme. Philippe Berard, the large stable has been turned into a well-equipped sanatorium for children who are too ill to go to the other colonies. Here 38 small refugees are under the care of professional nurses.

At Versailles there is a colony of 20 small girls who are living in an old convent. These children fled from Belgium under the care of two nuns and were compelled to undergo the most rigorous hardships. They spent the winter in a draughty barn, where the only covering at night was straw; where their feet and hands froze, and where they subsisted on scraps of bread, meat and grease discarded by the army. Gradually their legs began to swell and spots to appear on their bodies due to exposure; two of them died and almost all of them were ill. In this plight the committee found them and they are now comfortably housed in the old convent, studying and knitting stockings for other children.

In Russia, conditions are even worse than in France. Americans have done much for France, Belgium, Serbia and Montenegro, but they have left Russia to cope with her own situation, which is quite beyond her power. The same military decree which destroyed Moscow before the invasion of Napoleon, has held good with respect to Russian Poland and the Baltic provinces. Thousands ordered out of these provinces are making their way on foot toward Moscow and Petrograd, often succumbing to the Russian winter and dying in the snow. When the government can spare the railroads, the people are herded like cattle in the freight trains and transported aimlessly from one place to another.

It is estimated that there are 13 million such refugees in Russia. The government has made a few attempts to look after them, but it is necessarily preoccupied in war measures and has neither time nor mon-

He Uses the Safe and Sure Thing at Home

P. A. Enrd, Concho, Calif., writes as follows: "I have sold Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and also other lines of cough medicines for a number of years. I never saw a case of cough, but Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for my family or myself, as I find it produces the best results, always cures severe colds and sore chest and does not contain opiates or other harmful drugs."

Unthinking, careless people neglect their coughs and colds, not realizing how they weaken the system and lower the vital resistance to such grave diseases as bronchitis, pleurisy and even pneumonia.

For promptly averting serious results from a cold, use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It spreads a healing soothing influence over raw, inflamed surfaces, eases tightness and soreness of the throat, helps cough, whooping cough, stuffy wheezing, breathing, bronchitis and a gripe cough.

SALT'S FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We Eat Too Much Meat Which Clogs Kidneys, Then the Back Hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, bet about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless, inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overworking kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

ey to devote to them. The Tatiana Committee of Russia, named after the Princess Tatiana, the second daughter of the Czar, is taking care of many of the children, but it, too, is handicapped by the need of funds. The English are feeding from four to seven hundred a day with the Great Britain to Poland Fund, provided by prominent Englishmen such as the Earl of Rosebery and Viscount Bryce. But seven thousand out of 13 million is a very small percentage. What is needed is the same organization that Americans have created in Paris—an organization whose members will go out and meet the refugees on the road, establishing colonies in the little villages along the way. Instead of permitting all the refugees to concentrate on the larger, already overcrowded cities of Russia.

The colonizing idea has recently been inaugurated in this country by a philanthropic institution known as the Friends of Childhood, directed by Miss Caroline Appleton. It is the object of this organization to place war refugees on small farms throughout the United States where the families may become self-supporting and where the children may be taught to earn their own living. Miss Appleton has already received many liberal donations to the cause and has succeeded in placing many refugee families in our farming districts. The donations are not always from the rich. One woman, a government employee in Washington, offered Miss Appleton the use of 340 acres of land in Oklahoma which she had purchased with her own earnings.

While Americans are doing a splendid work in looking after the child refugees of Europe, there is still a great deal to be done. The need is for more volunteers.

Touring Car

MORE MILES PER GALLON LESS TIRE EXPENSE

It means money in your pocket if you buy this new light Overland Touring Car, as it gives you twice as many miles out of a gallon of gasoline as a heavier car and the tire expense is very low. All cars of this size and even heavier cars use three and one-half inch tires and this size is furnished with other cars but we give you the oversize four inch tires on this exceptionally light car without extra cost. This means an extra season of wear on the first tires and then you can use the three and one-half inch tires if you prefer, but you will find that the oversize are the cheapest in the long run. Then we give you a car equipped with the famous cant-lever springs which makes it so easy riding that a demonstration will surprise you. Electric starter, electric lights, speedometer, one man top, demountable rims, non-skid tires in rear, gasoline gauge to show how much gasoline is in the tank and all the up-to-date improvements.

U. S. DYE IMPORTS REACH $9,000,000

Aggregate Purchases From Germany Totaled That Sum Yearly.

"The outcry which has been raised as to our shortage of artificial dyes is out of all proportion if we take in consideration that the annual importation of dyes and synthetic products from Germany amount only to about $9,000,000," says L. H. Bakeland, who writes in Science.

In answer to the popular belief that American manufacturing chemists have in the past neglected this field, Mr. Bakeland refers to the statement of A. D. Little, a former president of the American Chemical society, that our annual dye imports from Germany represent about the same money value as the amount of candy sold annually by a popular chain of 5 and 10-cent stores.

"The development of any chemical industry," writes Mr. Bakeland, "is a matter of development of local opportunities; for instance, the manufacture of cellulose, as well as the industry of wood-distilling, has taken a greater development in the wood-covered portion of the United States than in Germany or any other country in the world."

He further points out that while many of the famous German chemical works have been in existence for more than half a century, none of them is as prosperous as several younger American companies.

This country leads in the manufacture of photographic supplies, sulphuric acid and other chemical products which have yielded a greater return to the manufacturer than could have been derived from the manufacture of coal tar dyes. Mr. Bakeland is supported in this contention by F. A. Liddbury, who says Germany became the leader in the coal tar dye industry for about the same reason that this country leads the world in the manufacture and sale in foreign countries of typewriters, sewing machines and automobiles.

A large local demand enabled manufacturers to develop their product to such a state of perfection that they could capture the foreign market before foreign manufacturers awoke to their opportunity.

The coal tar dye industry in this country has not attracted American manufacturers for the simple reason that with German competition there was no profit in it. If the demand becomes large, American chemists will meet it.—Indianapolis News.

HOUSE PASSES IMMIGRANT BILL
By a vote of 388 to 87 the house passed the immigration bill carrying the literacy test. The immigration bill has been voted by three provisions, namely, Cleveland, Taft and Wilson, because of the test. It is thought the present big majority can pass the bill over a presidential veto.

TO RID CHILD OF WORMS
Don't scold the fretful, nervous child. Often it's due to worms. Get rid of them by giving one-half to one lozenge Kickapoo Worm Killer, a laxative worm candy. Give only plain nourishing food, lots of outdoor exercise and put to bed early. Watch stools and continue giving Kickapoo Worm Lozenges, they will positively remove the worms. 25c at druggists.
